OPERATOR TEAMS UP WITH PERSONAL TRAINING SPECIALISTS 'EQUALS RESULTS' TO OFFER PT SESSIONS ACROSS ALL GREEK RESORTS

New for 2024, leading operator Mark Warner (www.markwarner.co.uk, 0845 322 5037) is offering personal training sessions created by London-based PT specialists Equals Results at all four of their Greek resorts.

Ideal for guests who want to keep up their regular workouts whilst on holiday, or for those who are keen to try out a PT experience for the first time, the sessions will be run by expert Mark Warner Fitness Instructors, in conjunction with the team at Equals Results. Offering a personalised top to bottom workout programme, involving all the major muscle groups, they will combine strength-building exercises with cardio activities. The 30-minute sessions will be timed to fit in around the huge choice of other activities that Mark Warner offers, from windsurfing and kayaking to tennis, padel and cycling. Prices start at £25 for a 30-minute session, or £70 for a block of three.

Commenting, Browne Bailey, from Equals Results says 'I'm a big fan of Mark Warner – having holidayed myself with them for many years – and am delighted to be working with them on this new initiative. A holiday is such a great opportunity to reset, take the time to really enjoy your exercise without feeling pressured and set new goals for the future. The daily 30-minute sessions that we are devising – a time that we recommend as the best way to achieve a sustainable fitness programme – are a perfect way for guests either to maintain their existing fitness levels or give our PT sessions a test drive to see if it's a way of exercise that might work for them.'

Whether guests are looking for an active holiday, or a week on a sun lounger with the odd game of tennis, a Mark Warner holiday offers the perfect balance of stretching their comfort zone on the waves or on two wheels, perfecting their top spin, or just switching off by the pool.

= Results Fitness:

Browne and Giselle Bailey established =Results in the early 2000's with a mission to offer their clients a sustainable approach to fitness. After years of working as PTs in gyms, they were determined to break the 'boom and bust cycle' that they saw time and time again where gyms tended to set unrealistic expectations and promises, based on programmes that clients couldn't realistically stick to. The ethos of =Results is about creating achievable fitness goals, helping people to be fit and strong so they can deal better with the everyday challenges of life — having a career, taking care of the family, staying healthy. This is based on personalised, 30-minute sessions, two-three times a week.
